Dear Richard:

I was stunned to receive your letter and learn of your accident and Karen's condition. I do hope that she has been able to come home since your letter to me. I want you to know that I have prayed for her and for you during this very trying time. I do hope that you will keep me posted on her condition. I deeply regretted to hear the news.

I am in the process of writing the Brookside church, as well as the Vulture, Madison and Brentwood church according to your instructions. I do hope that something good will come of one of these contacts.

I know that you sense the necessity and the beauty of prayer more now than ever before. God is able, and our lives must be lived with a deep sense of his plan being best in everything that occurs.

Be assured of my continuing prayers on behalf of Karen.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk

Dear John Allen,

Thank you for talking with us about our group.

This past Sunday my wife and I went to Tulsa and talked with the leaders of Brookside congregation.

They invited the whole group to come back during the Christmas vacation. ^{however,} We will continue to inquire with other elderships.

However, my wife was critically injured on the way back from Tulsa. Karen is still in the hospital here in Fort Smith (St. Edwards Hospital). The Lord willing, by Sunday, Karen will be better; so I will be in Little Rock most of next week (MO 3-2730)

Two days ago I mailed three letters that Karen had typed before the accident. The following men were sent a letter and a group outline: Mr. Houston Exell (Vuttee), Mr. Cha North (Madin) and Mr. R.B. Sweet (Austin).

When we talked to you, you said that you would contact several men for us; Any assistance will be appreciated.

Please pray that the Spirit of the Lord will continue to help my wife; there is very little that the doctors can do.

A brother,

Richard M. Rheinbolt

P.S.

Please excuse the stationery.
